Orlando Villas - Top Tips

- Car hire is essential as homes are situated in residential areas and it is unlikely that there are amenities within walking distance.
- Disney Area homes can be up to 35km from Disney so if you require a specific location we recommend you book a named division.
- Florida State Law requires all clients to register on arrival. All villa bookings are required to pay a Property Protection Fee of $35 per week or part-week by credit/debit card at the Welcome Centre as part of the registration process.
- It is normal procedure to pick up the keys of your home at a welcome center. You will be given driving directions to the welcome center with your documentation.
- Pool Heating is recommended when travelling in the winter months. This needs to be requested in advance of arrival and costs can vary between solar and electric heat charges. Your sales agent will advise costs at booking.
- WiFi is not standard in all homes but can be prebooked.

12. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

The Organiser shall not be liable for any damage caused to the Consumer by the failure to perform the contract or the improper performance of the contract where the failure or improper performance is due neither to any fault of the Organiser or Retailer acting on the Organiser's behalf nor that of another supplier of services because: (a) the failure which occurs in the performance of the contract is attributable to the Consumer (b) such failures are attributable to a third party unconnected with the provision of the services contracted for, and are unforeseeable or unavoidable: or- (c) such failures are due to (i) unusual and unforeseeable circumstances beyond the control of the Organiser, the Retailer acting on his behalf or the supplier of the services, even with all due care could not foresee or forestall.

In the case of damage other than death or personal injury or damage caused by defamation or by the wilful misconduct or gross negligence of the Organiser the amount of compensation which will be paid the Consumer will be limited to, in the case of an adult an amount equal double the inclusive price of the holiday to the adult concerned and in the case of a minor an amount equal to the inclusive price of the holiday to the minor concerned. The Organisers liability will not exceed any limitation applicable under any international convention governing or relating to the provision of the service complained of in the place of where they are performed or due to be performed, even if that convention has not been ratified or applied in the Republic of Ireland.

For international transport by air the provisions of the Warsaw Convention 1929 (including as amended by the Hague Protocol of 1955 and by any of the additional Montréal Protocol of 1975) or the Montréal Convention 1999 relating to the carriage of passengers and their luggage by air may apply, throughout the flight and during boarding and disembarkation. For international transport by water the provisions of the Athens Convention relating to the Carriage of Passengers and their luggage by sea, 1974 (and any amendment thereto) may apply. In respect of rail travel, the Berne Convention 1961, in respect of carriage by road, the Geneva Convention 1973; and, in respect of hotels, the Paris Convention 1962 may apply.

For the avoidance of doubt, this means that the Organiser is to be regarded as having all benefits of any limitations of liability contained in any of these conventions or any other international conventions applicable to the Consumer's holiday. This information notice summarises the liability rules applied by Community air carriers as required by Community legislation and the Montréal Convention. Compensation in the case of death or injury There are no financial limits to the liability for passenger injury or death. For damages up to 100,000 Special Drawing Rights ("SDRs") (approximately €125,000) the air carrier cannot contest claims for compensation. Above that amount, the air carrier can defend itself against a claim by proving that it was not negligent or otherwise at fault.

Advance payments: If a passenger is killed or injured, the air carrier must make an advance payment, to cover immediate economic needs, within 15 days from the identification of the person entitled to compensation. In the event of death, this advance payment shall not be less than 16,000 SDRs (approximately €19,300).

Passenger delays: In the case of passenger delay, the air carrier is liable for damage unless it took all reasonable measures to avoid the damage or it was impossible to take such measures. The liability for passenger delay is limited to 4,150 SDRs (approximately €5,000).

Baggage delays: In case of baggage delay, the air carrier is liable for damage unless it took all reasonable measures to avoid the damage or it was impossible to take such measures. The liability for baggage delay is limited to 1,000 SDRs (approximately €1,200)

Destruction loss or damage to baggage: The air carrier is liable for destruction, loss or damage to baggage up to 1,000 SDRs (approximately €1,200). In the case of checked baggage, it is liable even if not at fault, unless the baggage was defective. In the case of unchecked baggage, the carrier is only liable only if at fault.

Higher limits for baggage: A passenger can benefit from a higher liability limit by making a special declaration at check-in and by paying a supplementary fee.

Complaints on baggage: If the baggage is damaged, delayed, lost or destroyed, the passenger must write and complain to the air carrier as soon as possible. In the case of damage to the checked baggage, the passenger must write and complain within seven days, and in the case of delay within 21 days, in both cases from the date on which the baggage was placed disposal.

Liability of contracting and actual carriers: If the air carrier actually performing the flight is not the same as the actual carrier, the passenger has the right to address a complaint or to make a claim for damages against either. If the name or code of an air carrier is indicated that air carrier is the contracting air carrier.

Time Limit for action: Any action in court to claim damages must be brought within two years from the date of arrival of the aircraft, or from the date on which the aircraft ought to have arrived.

Basis for the information: The basis for the rules described above is the Montréal Convention of 28 May 1999, which is implemented in the Community by Regulation (EC) No. 2027/97 (as amended by Regulation (EC) No. 889/2002) and national legislation of the member states). A copy of the conditions of carriage applicable to the holiday and the Convention referred to above, can be supplied on request- In the event of any liability on the part of the Organiser for injury, illness or death, no payment will be made unless the following conditions are complied with: (i) the Consumer must advise the Organiser in relation to the injury or illness while the Consumer is at the resort and must also write to the Organiser within three months of the completion of the holiday; (ii) the Consumer must transfer any rights that the Consumer has, in respect of such injury, illness or death against any person to the Organiser; (iii) the Consumer must co-operate fully with the Organiser to enable the Organiser or its insurers to enforce such rights.

BOOKING TERMS & CONDITIONS FOR FLIGHTS ONLY

IMPORTANT NOTICE: The Package Holidays and Travel Trade Act, 1995 does not apply to this single travel service component [please see Introduction above]

1. CONTRACT:

Tour America is selling the tickets as agents for the airlines, which means the contract for the flight will be between you and the airline. Please note that for each ticket there are additional terms which are specific to that fare. Most instant purchase tickets and many non-instant purchase tickets once issued are non-refundable when cancelled. You are responsible for complying with any airline's terms in relation to check-in times, reconfirmation of flights or other matters. In relation to flight tickets, you are required to use all flight coupons in order of sequence, if this requirement is not met the airline may void the ticket.

2. THE CONDITIONS OF YOUR TICKET:

When you travel by air, your journey may be subject to certain international conventions such as the Warsaw Convention, Montréal Convention. You agree that the transport supplier's own 'Conditions of Carriage' will apply to you on that journey. When arranging this transportation for you, we rely on the terms and conditions contained within these international conventions and those 'Conditions of Carriage'. You acknowledge that all of these terms and conditions form part of your contract with us as well as with the transport company. A copy of any airline's terms and conditions are available on request. By asking us to confirm your booking, you are accepting that the terms of this agreement (and the conditions of any contract made with any airline) apply to your booking and the air travel you have booked.

We will tell you the identity of your air carrier at the time of booking and if it is not known at that time, or subsequently changes, you will be informed as soon as possible either by us or your airline no later than at check-in for your flight (or boarding if it is a connecting flight without check-in).

3. RESERVATIONS:

Be aware that certain airlines do not maintain "real time" seat availability in the airline reservations system to which we connect. Whilst every effort is made to reflect the true situation, instances may occur when airlines cancel sales. Tour America will advise you if this is the case and will endeavour to reinstate your booking.

4. TICKETS:

If it is not possible to get your flight tickets to you (e.g. because your travel date is imminent) we may insist that you have an "e-ticket" or a TOD (ticket on departure) generated. A TOD is when you will have to pick up your ticket at your point of departure. We will ensure you know exactly where to pick up your tickets. Where an airline provides e-ticketing on a specific route this will be the only ticketing option made available. Electronic tickets are stored in the airline's computer rather than printed on paper. The service is similar to the traditional paper ticket process but eliminates the time and hassle associated with purchasing or exchanging a paper ticket. When you arrive at the airline check in desk you will be required to present an official form of identification (i.e. passport) to receive your boarding pass.

Please note that you must print out your confirmation page or confirmation email to show to the airline. Because your e-ticket is held in the airline's computer, you cannot forget it or lose it. More importantly, your e-ticket cannot be stolen, saving you the cost of a replacement ticket. You do not have to wait for your e-ticket to be delivered to you.

5. FLIGHT RECONFIRMATION:

All onward and return flights must be reconfirmed with the relevant airlines at least 72 hours prior to the commencement of that leg of the journey unless specifically informed otherwise by that airline. Tour America accepts no responsibility for bookings cancelled due to non compliance with rules set by that particular airline. Tour America also take no responsibility for any flight rescheduling en route.

6. PASSPORTS/VISAS/HEALTH REQUIREMENTS:

Tour America is very happy to inform you of current documentation requirements if you so require. It is incumbent upon you to ensure that you meet the passport, visa, health requirements of the countries you wish to visit and those that you transit (even if it is for a plane change). Many countries require that your passport should be valid for a period of (a minimum) six months from the date of arrival into that country. Tour America does not accept any responsibility if you should be denied boarding or deported due to non-fulfilment of the above.

7. CANCELLATION / AMENDMENTS:

If you need to change or cancel your travel plans it is your responsibility to notify Tour America in writing of such request. Some tickets are non-refundable. In some instances some tickets can be amended for a change fee, plus any applicable penalties. Some airlines do not allow changes. Tour America applies an administration fee of €150.00 per booking for any modifications, changes or cancellations to fares. This will be regardless of the price or face value of the fare. In addition to the Tour America charges, most airlines also have a penalty or cancellation fee for any changes or cancellations to fares.

8. REFUNDS:

If you want to cancel your journey it is important that you notify us in writing with utmost urgency. This enables us to cancel your reservation with the airline. If you already have your ticket please submit it to us. Tickets must be sent to:
Tour America, 62/63 Middle Abbey Street, Dublin 1, Ireland

On receipt of the ticket we will send you an acknowledgement that we have received it. Those tickets which are refundable or cancelled by us will be processed and refunded back to your credit card in approximately 16 weeks from our receipt of the ticket. Some tickets may need to be submitted to the airline for the cancellation and/or refund to be authorised. In this event your refund request may take longer, but we will advise you in our acknowledgement of the expected turnaround period. Please note that most airlines do not refund on part used tickets. Tickets which are returned more than 1 year from date of issue are classified as expired tickets and must be submitted to the airline for their authority to refund.

9. LOST TICKETS:

If you lose your tickets, it may be possible to re-issue them for a fee. The amount payable will depend on the circumstances of the loss and how close to the travel date you discover it. However, not all tickets can be re-issued; you are recommended to have sufficient insurance cover. Tickets will be dispatched to you in accordance with your instructions and we accept no responsibility for their delivery. Lost tickets which cannot be reissued are refunded at the sole discretion of the airline; these refunds can take up to one year to be authorised.

10. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY:

As Tour America acts as agent this will mean that it will have no contractual liability to you in respect of the operation of the flight. This means that in the event of you suffering personal injury, illness or death as a result of any act or omission of your airline or you having any complaint about the quality of the services provided or having any other complaint at all, your sole right of redress will be against the airline who provided such service and that we will be under no liability at all (whether in contract, tort or otherwise).

Without prejudice to the foregoing, in the event that we are found liable on any basis whatsoever in relation to your booking our maximum liability to you, if Tour America is found to have been at fault in relation to any service that Tour America provided (as opposed to any service provided by the airline for whom Tour America is not responsible) is limited to the cost of the booking in question.

We do not exclude or limit liability for death or personal injury that arises as a result of our negligent act or omission or our employees whilst acting in the course of their employment. We shall not be liable for any indirect, special or consequential loss, including economic loss, which term shall include loss of profits, loss of use of profits, business, revenue, and goodwill or anticipated savings.

SECTION 3: Events & Event Tickets

When we book an Event ticket for you, our responsibility is limited to the arranging of the tickets. We do not have any responsibility for the supply, provision or conduct of the Event itself, and those responsible are not our suppliers. The tickets may contain important information and conditions, which you must read carefully. Tickets are non-transferable unless otherwise stated. Unfortunately, whilst rare, Events can be cancelled, postponed, rescheduled, abandoned or curtailed at short notice or even without notice. We make every effort to obtain and pass on to you up to date information regarding Events, participants and tour leaders/celebrities. This information is based on details supplied to us but we cannot guarantee its accuracy or that changes will not occur. The cancellation or alteration of an Event, the non-appearance of a participant or advertised participant/celebrity or other changes are entirely outside our control and outside our contractual responsibility and we cannot accept any responsibility for them. No refund or compensation or other sum will be paid by us. We cannot therefore accept any responsibility or pay any refund, compensation or other sum for any changes to or cancellation of any advertised or confirmed programme or itinerary, even where this involves the cancellation of an Event, which may have been your main reason for making your booking. If however, we obtain a refund from the organiser, this will be passed on to you. If you purchase ticket(s) for an Event other than through Tour America, we accept no liability for the validity of any ticket(s) you buy. If you have purchased arrangements through us but a ticket separately and the Event is cancelled or rearranged, if we are able to change our services to coincide with the rearrangement of the Event we will inform you of the changes and any addition or reduction in costs that may apply. In some cases we will not be able to alter Arrangements and we will continue to supply the original Arrangements, which we have agreed to supply you. This applies even where there has been the cancellation of an Event, which may have been your main reason for booking. In addition to the above, please also note the following important information:

A1. VENUE ADMISSION & FACILITIES

Admission to venues is controlled by the Event organiser, venue officials and/or the police. Where we provide you with a ticket for an Event, our responsibility is limited to the provision of the ticket itself and this does not guarantee your admission to the venue. Your actions or behaviour or the behaviour or actions of others may result in you being denied entry to the venue. Such circumstances are beyond our control and we accept no responsibility if this happens. We accept no liability whatsoever for either the quality of any Event or venue facilities, or for any injury sustained in the venue or in the vicinity of the venue or during the Event (except where such injury is caused by our negligence). Venue and Ticket regulations apply which will be stated on your ticket or available on request from the Event organiser. Security for entry to venues may be strict. You will need to allow a time to go through the security arrangements, which, depending on the Event, may involve baggage checks and/or screening.

A2. REPLACEMENT TICKETS

Event organisers or Tour America will not issue duplicate/ replacement tickets. Tour America accept no responsibility for lost or stolen tickets.

A3. USE OF EVENT TICKETS

For some Events, the Tickets we sell are for seats within a specific area/location of the venue. Where this applies details will be advised at the time of booking.

A4. RE-SALE OF EVENT TICKETS

Event tickets purchased through Tour America are strictly subject to the Event organisers terms and conditions. The re-sale of Event tickets may be prohibited by the Event organiser, and in some cases, re-sale may even be illegal. You are advised to seek permission from the Event organiser before attempting to re-sell any Event tickets.
